

Butterfly Hunt (24/07/2019)

On Wednesday 24th July, I went on a butterfly hunt (run by FORCE). We spotted lots of butterflies due to the increased temperature (Approx. 36C°) and decreased cloud cover which created an ideal sunny climate for butterflies. We then began our walk with a talk by a Butterfly enthusiast. Then we all continued our walk by entering a more shaded area; we saw a comma (butterfly) which was resting/hiding in a bush! We all continued to the shaded area to try and spot a speckled wood (and get some cover from the heat). Then we went towards the river to spot some insects...

Damsel fly

(2-4 – Cinnabar moth on Ragwort plant)

5-6 Honey bee
